

Johnston Family Reunion

This was even more special because we also celebrated Glen and Maxine's 60th Wedding Anniversary, in Eugene, before meeting at the Sand Castle. We were thrilled to all be together looking forward to days of fun in the sun and sand between our toes. We knew all the big and little kiddos would keep us laughing and busy, which they did so well. They eagerly dug in the sand, dipped toes in cold surf, waved sparklers at night and acted out skits together. There was never a shortage of someone dancing or singing (or even sometimes crying) to entertain us. We knew we might not return again, since "dad and mom" were moving down to California soon. Of course we all vowed we loved this so much we would come back, but you know:

Best laid plans

How grateful we are for those lazy days of summer together, and the wonderful memories we will always cherish.
